Warm greetings from BurJuman Mall!

We are excited to invite your school to participate in this year's BurJuman Rising Stars, the premier talent show that celebrates exceptional skills and creativity. As we embark on our fifth season, we are more committed than ever to discovering and nurturing talent across a wide range of disciplines.

BurJuman Rising Stars has a proud history of showcasing outstanding performers and innovators, and this year we aim to elevate our impact even further. We believe that by involving local schools, we can foster a deeper connection within our community and offer a more meaningful experience for all participants.

We are eager to partner with your school, encouraging your students to showcase their unique talents and be part of this inspiring competition. This season promises to be an extraordinary platform for young artists, performers, and innovators to shine and make their mark.

We look forward to your school's participation and are excited to see the remarkable talent your students will bring to the BurJuman Rising Stars stage.
